INTRODUCTION

A gift is the thing you came to deliver to fulfill your assignment in the world.

A gift is an inherent capacity to fulfill a function that meets a need in creation.

A gift is the inherent ability to produce any quantity with economic utility.

A gift is the work that you came to do in your generation to advance the world.

A gift is an idea of value that only you can imagine, nurture and fulfill in your own unique way.

The above is my understanding and definition of what a gift is, and I will explain why I define a gift that way.

1. A gift is the thing you came to deliver to fulfill your assignment in the world.

Think of your gift like a special package you were born to deliver. It's something unique that you bring to the world, and when you share it, you feel fulfilled and like you're doing what you're meant to do. Your gift is like your life's purpose, and when you're using it, you feel like you're making a difference.

2. A gift is an inherent capacity to fulfill a function that meets a need in creation.

Imagine there's a problem in the world that needs solving, and you have a special talent or skill that can help fix it. That's your gift! It's like you have a unique tool or ability that can make a positive impact. Your gift is not just something you're good at, but it's also something that can help others or make the world a better place.

3. A gift is the inherent ability to produce any quantity with economic utility.

Your gift is something you can do that has value to others, and people will be willing to pay for it because it has economic use. It's like you have a special skill or talent that can create something useful or valuable. Think of it like being really good at crafting, coding, designing, or writing – your gift can be used to create something that others want or need.

4. A gift is the work that you came to do in your generation to advance the world.

Your gift is the specific work or contribution you're meant to make in your lifetime. It's like you're part of a bigger story, and your gift is the role you play in helping to move the story forward. When you're using your gift, you're helping to make the world a better place, and that's a pretty cool thing!

5. A gift is an idea of value that only you can imagine, nurture and fulfill in your own unique way.

As a leader in your area of gifting you are born to give birth to an idea of value. You are born to give birth to an idea that's uniquely yours, and when you nurture and share it, it can make a positive impact on others. Your gift manifested through an idea is so unique that only you can see it, grow it, and bring it to life. It's like a seed that's planted in your imagination, and you nurture it with your thoughts, passions, and creativity. Since it's born from your mind, only you can fulfill it in your own special way, and when you do, it can benefit humanity in a way that's meaningful.

As you walk the journey of your life people will look for you, that is you will have value to them when you manifest the gift that you are carrying. You came to Earth pregnant with a gift that the world needs. You are here to impact the world by serving your gift to fulfill your purpose.

You came to the Earth as a gift to the world, packaged with a gift that the world needs. True success is when you manifest your gift to impact the world. You should be able to say, "I am a gift, gifted with a gift to impact the world."

In another perspective, you are a blessing, loaded with a gift to bless the world. Self-manifestation is when you bring forth your gift to become who you are equipped to be in the world.

Also consider this: the sun is a gift that gives the Earth its gift of ultraviolet light. Its gift goes into the leaves, which are used to produce chlorophyll, creating oxygen that we breathe. The sun is a gift, and we need its gift to breathe. What is hidden inside of you that the world needs? What are you supposed to become that the world has been waiting for? Inside of you is a gift that must be manifested to benefit and impact the world.

You are to manifest your gift just like a seed that carries a tree within it. Everything a seed is to become is in itself, and the same is true for you. Everything you are born to become is trapped within you; live to manifest it. Your future is great because of your gift to the world. God places the future of a thing inside the thing.

The key to living a life of impact is identifying, refining, and serving your gift. The world needs what you are carrying. Don't leave with your gift—your passion, your idea, your business, your ministry, your service, your product, and your message. Let this material inspire you to fulfill your leadership purpose by manifesting your gift to fulfill a function that meets a need in your world.
